“My slogan and something I pass on to everyone that works here, is that when a patient comes into the chair, we treat them like our mother, father, sister or brother and we do anything for them that we would do for our own loved ones,” said Dr. Pasha Nasirzadeh, head of the Wellington Aurora Dental team.

“If you speak to our patients, I think they would agree. We do good quality work and we take pride in what we do. I’m a perfectionist and I make sure everything is done properly and well.”

The full-service dental practice, which opened on Wellington Street East near John West Way in 2006, offers general and cosmetic dentistry, dental hygiene and check-ups, dental implants, smile makeovers, veneers, dental bonding, crowns and whitening.

“I am very interested in cosmetic dentistry and jaw and joint pain (TMJ),” said Dr. Pasha, adding he is currently enrolled in the University of Minnesota’s post graduate program for aesthetic and advanced restorative dentistry.

Dr. Pasha’s background includes a Bachelor of Science degree (2002) and Doctor of Dental Surgery degree (2006) from the University of Toronto. Shortly after graduation, he started his family practice in Aurora, working alongside his parents who are also dentists. He eventually took over the practice in 2010 and is now the sole practitioner.

“We wanted to open a practice in an area that was booming,” explained Dr. Pasha. “The town and the practice have over the years. We have a lot of new customers who are just moving here and some who have lived here for 30 years. We’re very happy with the patients we have here. It’s a good group of people.”

Dr. Pasha is also a member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry – the largest cosmetic dentistry organization in North America – and is in the process of completing their five-year accreditation program.

April is Oral Health Month and on April 24, Wellington Aurora Dental will be offering free cancer screenings for anyone who would like to drop in and have themselves checked out. They will also have a special Mother’s Day offer which will be starting the last week of April until the first week of May. May 24 is Patient Appreciation Day and everyone is welcome to come out and meet Dr. Pasha and his staff.

In terms of community outreach, the practice supports and raises funds for Yellow Brick House, an organization which helps abused women and children in York Region.
